When I lost my reason what could I think of that I remember to have seen, angels
The heaven fallen on my world
I cried for many nights for you I believed your words were truth
My heart is broken because of you My soul is lost in your promises I never thought you could go on without me I never thought I wouldn't want to continue my life Sorry me, because I know I hurt you My words were so hard (I know) when the sun comes back shine everything will better to me but now I can feel my body falling so deep Forgive me, that's the only thing I really can say you Since you went away
I haven't had forces, to be

I never thought you could ...

I always knew this was written in the stars, but I couldn't believe and now I'm here, so alone...

I never thought you could ..

Oh ! I never thought that's possible but now I see that is and I'm here believing not that I don't wanna continue my ... life
