Song heaven, gotta open your mouth again and let us in Sinking in a "sooo dramatic" light

Feel like Houdini when things go right

Ten feet down, about to drown and suddenly everything is unlocked

Watch the tick take blood, for salting all those slugs

Wisdom teeth come in (with) the sugar taste of sin

This ache, lacking definition, on top of a textbook skeleton

Upright and fully capable but locked out

Gone home

When buying a raincoat make sure you get it wet

When breaking a vacuum make sure that you own it

It seems the details make the hostile man and that is sooo cliché

I feel like I've stolen the shoes from everyone

I'm interested in using time wise and making tracks

I think about it when I'm putting things into paper bags

This time I'll mean everything I say

Last trick! Houdini, meet appendix

Get up, pose for postcard with an ashtray and broken coffee cup

Good luck, hope the crowd enjoys your routine routines

I'm gonna be ready so make sure you lock the door

I wanna see magic more than you'll ever know
