

Tony Banks "Water Out of Wine"

Visit "Water Out of Wine" on MotoLyrics.com

In the dark it seems so easy now
If you could just remember how the problem can be solved
The sun comes up lightening the sky
But everyday is the same
Doubts return and the answers desert you

Fragments fall around you, all shot down in flames
Suddenly now you know that it can never be the same
All of the hopes and dreams and promises
You made have upped and gone
Bringing boredom out of wonder, water out of wine, oh

By the fire cheered up by the flames
Watching people on the TV thinking I can do the same
The sun goes down darkening the sky leave things undecided
Lest the thinking cause you pain so everyday is the same
You know what to do, just how eludes you

Fragments fall around you, all shot down in flames
Suddenly now you know that it can never be the same
All of the hopes and dreams and promises
You made have upped and gone
Bringing boredom out of wonder, water out of wine, oh

Look into the glass can you still recall That bundle of potential that you were when you were young
The sun comes up brightening the sky
The sun goes down darkening the sky so everyday is the same
Till the day when the dreaming is over

Fragments fall around you, all shot down in flames
Suddenly now you know that it can never be the same
All of the hopes and dreams and promises
You made have upped and gone
Bringing boredom out of wonder, water out of wine, oh

