Chicago (That Toddling Town)

Tony Bennett

Written by Fred Fisher

- from his "Strike Up the Band" LP with Count Basie:

Roulette 25231

- This version did not chart but

In 1922, two versions were charted: Ben Selvin (# 5)

and the Bar Harbor Society

Orchestra (# 13)

- In 1957, Frank Sinatra brought it back to # 84

Chicago, Chicago, that toddlin' town

Chicago, Chicago, I'll show you around

Bet your bottom dollar you'll lose the blues in Chicago

Chicago, the town that Mart Faye could not shut down

On State Street, that great street

I just want to say

They do things that they don't do on Broadway, say

They have the time, the time of their life

I saw a man, he danced with his wife

In Chicago, my home town

They have the time, the time of their life

I saw a man, he danced with his wife

In Chicago

In Chicago

In Chicago

TRANSCRIBER'S NOTE: Original lyrics indicate that *Billy Sunday *, the evangelist, could not close Chicago down-after all, it WAS Capone's town!! . Marty Faye was a Chicago radio DJ and TV talk show host from the 40/50/60s. He was known for his abrasive style and voice. If you ever heard him, you wouldn't be likely to forget him, though you might try to, very hard.
