You'd better pray
The souls that you save
Will earn you a place up in heaven
If I have my share
I'll be rotting in hell
But I'll definitely have had much more pleasure

You'd better watch out for a lost cause
You'd better watch out for yourself

'Cause I love you any more
Let's not believe you get everything dropped in your hands
'Cause I love you any more
If I save your neck it's to break your back
If I save your neck it's to break your back

You'd better pray
The price that you paid
Is worth at least seventy times seven
If I have my share
I'd be lost in despair
But I'll grant you your safe place in heaven

You'd better watch out for a lost cause
You'd better watch out for yourself

'Cause I love you any more
Let's not believe you get everything strewn at your feet
'Cause I love you any more
If I save your neck it's to break your back
If I save your neck it's to break your back
