I don't care for what's coming next
It's a matter of saying, of seeing the right context
I give up
The hindmost dog may catch the hare
But I never catch nothing, it's startlingly unfair
I give up, it's enough

It's got to be me
And I don't want to waste more time
I want to roam freely
With the best designed
But I collapse, yes, I collapse in my own traps

I don't think you'll ever understand
By what I mean when I say that I'm Alice in wonderland
I give up
I share my life with the deadly doubts
I'm the ostrich girl, grow my head in a hole in the ground
I give up, it's enough

It's got to be me
And I don't want to waste more time
I want to roam freely
With the most enlightened
And I go blind, yes, I go blind with jealousy
I give up on my own luck

It's got to be me
And I don't want to waste more time
I want to roam freely
With the most refined
But I collapse, yes, I collapse

It's got to be me
And I don't want to waste more time
I want to roam freely
With the best designed
And I collapse, yes, I collapse in my own traps
I give up on my own luck
