"Wake Up"

When I first saw you it blew my mind
You got hit and you still survived
Even though the laughs turn into cries
Now that you're forever paralyzed
The way you thought before it's been reversed
Tragedy has killed the curse
You got smacked to the ground so wake up

WAKE UP! You came for the thrill
you came for the kill and you lost it
WAKE UP! You came for the thrill

Just an acquaintance, didn't know you well
But I could tell you thought your life
Was a living hell
Just one jump was all it took
To turn another page in life's big book
The way you thought before it's been reversed
Tragedy has killed the curse
You got smacked to the ground so wake up

WAKE UP! You came for the thrill
you came for the kill and you lost it
WAKE UP! You came for the thrill

Someone's thrown a monkey wrench into the works
And caused a major malfunction that only hurts
Your troubles chase you as you try to run away
From a head game you don't want to play

WAKE UP! You came for the thrill
you came for the kill and you lost it
WAKE UP! You came for the thrill
