And behind me
Behind this veil
All these people without faces

They've been standing
Here for years
Carrying me inside their shadow

Carrying too much load
Won't carry all this guilt on my own
As water runs in

Hidden beneath us
Hidden low
Cannot lift any of these stones

They're lending their eyes
Lending their ears
Carrying me inside their shadow

Water runs in

Sore hands to the wall
Won't carry all this guilt on my own
