"Sunshine"

This is not the end of something so small
This is the rebirth of something we call a broken spirit
That will show us that it's not so broken at all
I missed the sunshine for so long
so now I live on the bright side
This is not the place you saw yourself
This is as good a place as any else
A fractured dream with a mending hope and the remedy of time will tell
I missed the sunshine for so long.
So now I live on the bright side

So now you know
Come on let's go. We'll make it so
Come on let's go
I've missed the sunshine for so long
So now I live on the bright side
Been on the wrong side for so long
I want my place on the bright side
