Retrace the speed that's in my blood
No need to take it up one notch
Can't inhale all the smoke

As my insides wanted out
I was filled with all the doubts
Will my life remember this?

So I played my second card
Lost my markers from the start
I need to take it down

And I rejected every sec
Need to lay down on my back
And inhale all the air

So I'm sorry, I'm sorry for the time
That we didn't spend tonight

It slips between my hands
For once don't jump right at it
Focus, join the break
A sound can cure the restless
