Running against your wall
Let us blackmail you car pretty scars
The clock's been ticking for quite some time
Are we able to withdraw and who should take the fall

Take me right back to this time
When you held my hand and told me everything was alright
I mean alright as okay
Could I use this standard phrase
I really don't belong you coughed me up way hard
Yet you tricked me from the start

Have you seen that guy in black (that's me i hope you realise that he is bad for you sweetie) Should I've known this from the start (this guy in front as though his girl I'll tell her that you said hello)

Please don't ask me why I keep on loving you
Will you show me off this time
You've got me on a leach that's not
Tied on to your conscience

Take me right back to this time
When you kicked me off and told me everything was A-
OK
You gave me hell from start
I'm not the one you think Baby this means war and I have more balls than you'll ever get
So stand back and withdraw

You pushed me off your waggon
You gave me hell from start

Please don't ask me why I keep on loving you
Will you show me off this time
You've got me on a leach that's not
Tied on to your conscience

Well who's the bad one in this war (I wonder who's your villain)

Well who's the bad one in this war

Have you seen that guy in black
Yes I have
Should I've known this from the start Yes you should

Please don't ask me why I keep on loving you
Will you show me off this time
You've got me on a leach that's not
Tied on to your conscience
Not tied on to your conscience
