We used to tear it down
But now we just exist
The things that I did wrong
I bet you got a list
Now I know how you remember
And those moments that you choose
Well define me as a traitor
Stealing everything you lose

Forget about what I said
The light's are gone and the party's over
Forget about what I said
Forget about what I said
I'm older now and I know you hear me
Forget about what I said
And stay up late tonight

And turn off your phone
Well you were selfish too
But you were never all alone
In those ugly pink apartments
With the hustlers and the kids
Mapping out some retribution
Do we have to go through this

Forget about what I said
The light's are gone and the party's over
Forget about what I said
Forget about what I said
I'm older now and I know you hear me
Forget about what I said

All of the stars are wondering 'round tonight
We used to try them on
And sometimes I hear you
The galaxy sings your song
And tonight night I sing along

Forget about what I said
The light's are gone and the party's over
Forget about what I said

Forget about what I said
I'm older now and I know you hear me
Forget about what I said
Forget about what I said
