See I heard the sirens blowin
Bells and whistles too
Had a towel over my shoulder
Knowin there was nothing I could do
I threw it in
I packed up this here old suitcase
And headed for the door
I couldn't let it get up under my skin

See I heard about forever
And once upon a time
And somewhere in between the two
I was yours and you were mine alone

Then tomorrow came a callin
And yesterday looked back
Today we realized our love was gone

Songbird sing us a love song
And heal our broken hearts with your melody
Songbird bring us a new song
Let this love fly free

Girl you're precious in the mornin
Saying lets forget about last night
You were drunk and I was crazy
Lets just make love and make it all alright for now
We'll apologize forever
Toast to something kind
And drink ourselves right back into the ring somehow

Volatile and fragile sign
Say handle with care
So powerful and humbling
Really nothing to compare it to Humility's an angel
Always honest, always true
And somewhere along the way
She spoke to me and you

Songbird sing us a love song

Heal these broken hearts with your melody
Songbird bring us a new song
Let this love fly free
Let this love fly on free

Love's like a moment
Love lasts forever
An etchascetch
A polaroid
It's like a symphony
A passing fancy
Won't be created
Can't be destroyed
No no, oh no

(ladada's)

See I heard about forever

The restlessness is waiting
Complacency is dead
May courage give us the strength to carry on

Songbird sing us a love song
Songbird bring us a new song
Let this love go on free
