All it takes is an honest mistake
Now I find you here
You've been here before
Tripped up over your shadow

Why did you run
Why did you run
When I'm right here

It's all gonna be the same
When you get there

Now that we see the signs
Can we walk this line together
Now that we know it's time
Can we walk this line together

It's late September,
And all I remember is you dear
With the falling leaves
I get back on my knees to surrender

Why did you run
Why did you run
When I'm right here

It's all gonna be the same
When you get there

Now that we see the signs
Can we walk this line together
Now that we know it's time
Can we walk this line together

Now that we see the signs
Can we walk this line together
Now that we know it's time
Can we walk this line together

This is the day we come to say
All of the pain has come and gone away

This is the one winged dove
Today we come together

This is the day we come to say
All of the pain has come and gone away
This is the one winged dove
Today we come together

This is the day we come to say
All of the pain has come and gone away
This is the one winged dove
Today we come together

Now that we see the signs
Can we walk this line together
Now that we know it's time
Can we walk this line together

Now that we see the signs
Can we walk this line together
Now that we know it's time
Can we walk this line together..
