"Happy Hour"

When i walk into the office, you can tell im exhausted, these complimentary coffees are only making me nauseous I have too many bosses, I avoid em when i can, walking through the cubicles is like a game of pac-man When im at the copier its sloppier than a copy ocument, its obvious my body still has a couple of shots in it I miss college, back when it was possible, to sleep until whenever cause goin to class was optional Now i got a pocket full of schedules and calenders and hours full of meetings without the talents of balance So is it my fault if i have my tie tied wrong with a bunch of purple circles on my eye balls and even if i fall all over the floor, is you really gonna record that my performances are poor, cause if im getting laid off, im takin some days off, prayin that the airplanes checks start to take off.

Chorus

I dont wanna be here, I dont wanna be here, im about to fall over,
im about to fall over, its been a long day, when i was up all night, like were walking with our eyes closed, (walking with our eyes closed)

Now im writing in my cubicle, biting in my cuticles, fighting off the window cause the sight of it is beautiful not as beautiful as the cutie checkin the messages, my confession is an obsession with the receptionist whoa and im off the deep end, cause im on the low, and you know that im creepin, something like so did you finish that memo over weekend?

no it was too long, oh thats what she said!
So can we get in my bed please? you know that I excel when im in them spread sheets.
And i know you wanna smash, i can read over the crews, like the way i wanna smash every fax machine i use Thats a typical reaction, plus the fact that an ass that massive has attractive beam attraction when its passing This is more than physical attraction, cause if i was an email, youd be my attachment.

Chorus

Dissappointed with the position ive been appointed to cause every powerpoint presentation i give is pointless, I find it funny how we dedicate all of our time and money just to find ways how we can save all our money and time I guess that happens a lot, this place reminds me of a twitter page, 100 something characters packed in a box Yeah, we all hopelessly unproductive asking for a salary when were actually doin nothing so why you constantly checking, ur comments in mail, ask yourself why you think the U.S. economy fails but instead were just staring ahead in a homepage, yo our generation is only digging its own grave but if we all agree that were letting this ship sink, the least we can do is hit up happy hour for a drink And in the mean time, yall are making me proud, you probably on
