King Blues, The
"Set the World on Fire"

I wake up in the morning,
Take mints, find my lozenges,
Swallowing the juice if it's raining blood oranges,
Then I sit down and read the newspaper,
It tells me the enemy and lets me know the saviour,
It's mixed flavour,
Asylum seekers, as I lace up my blood-stained sneakers,
I turn on the television, what have I got?
The war rages on and it's only 8 o'clock

Fire, Fire, Well I wanna set the world on fire,
Fire, Fire, Yeah I wanna set the world on fire,
Watch it all burn down,
We can start again,
Fire, Fire, Fire, Fire!

They say it's just been invented,
And it's now in shop, heaven sended
The cure is always just one drop,
So pay the doctor, to be the sniffer
We want bigger bits, bigger, bigger, bigger, yeah!
This is how we use the greatest minds in science,
Not a cure for cancer, but a profit for giants,
They blind the clients with advertisements
That ain't progress, it's violence

Fire, Fire, Well I wanna set the world on fire,
Fire, Fire, Yeah I wanna set the world on fire,
Watch it all burn down,
We can start again,
Fire, Fire, Fire, Fire!

And if you notice my grotesque, protest music,
The choice is yours, you can slate it or use it,
Fight the power? Man, we are the power!
Blooded seeds in concrete streets, it made flower,
Politics, I love it, meant to be sinister,
Primitive but I can't find anything simpler,
I float around the perimeter,

I only the follow to mob to finch the Prime Minister

Fire, Fire, Well I wanna set the world on fire,
Fire, Fire, Yeah I wanna set the world on fire,
Watch it all burn down,
We can start again,
Fire, Fire, Fire, Fire!
(Watch it all burn down,
We can start again)
Fire, Fire, Fire, Fire!
Fire, Fire, Fire, Fire!
