"Gasoline"

When I got it, man I got it good, when I lose it, I lose it all.

Bangin' my head, against the wall, a lone rebel against the world.

If I should tumble from the grace of god, who's gonna catch me when I fall?

Time is undone, it's back to square one, its my life that's expendable.

Gasoline, gasoline, when it's burning red.

A little waters all I need

Gasoline, gasoline, burning red.

Who's gonna give me what I need?

Its all out in the open, it's all up and in the air.

What I want is out of reach, the ones in control don't share.

I can only hope, this is temporary.

There's order in your factory, but I ain't so ordinary.

Gasoline, gasoline, when it's burning red.

A little waters all I need

Gasoline, gasoline, burning red.

Who's gonna give me what I need?
