Waiting all this time
Waiting all this time for answers
Doesn't matter what you say
We'll be seeing you another day

It was a Saturday night we came to play the show
The outcome of that night, we did not know
The amount of blood and violence
That would be shed, the next thing I know
He took one to the head
It's cool it's fine you can be the tough guy
Fighting with your weapons, did you even think why?

Now it doesn't even matter what you say
We'll be seeing you another day

Waiting all this time
Waiting all this time for answers
Doesn't matter what you say
We'll be seeing you another day

What the fuck just happened? I found out later
The amount of damage done, will be greater
That I could even imagine, what happens in a stupid fight
It all came to me, later on that night
It's cool it's fine you can be the tough guy
Fighting with your weapons, did you even think why?
Now it doesn't even matter what you say
We'll be seeing you another day

Not thinking about the situation
You did things without hesitation
Bop with a weapon over a heated conversation
And now you think that it's okay
But we'll be seeing you another day
You fucking pussies think that it's done
Here we fucking come

Waiting all this time
Waiting all this time for answers

Doesn't matter what you say
We'll be seeing you another day
