"Forget It"

tired looking over it to find an answer that fits spent so much time thinking about it but now i couldn't give two shits arguments and complaining before i knew it it was all done while it last it sure was fun i knew it was gonna take some time before things could go any faster so i spent my days and my nights just getting high and getting plastered so i could try to find some sort of reason why things were going astray well forget it i live my life today baffled with insomnia for days couldn't get no sleep tried getting over it but the incline was way too steep she gave me the ol' its not you its me routine i guess i was blinded and i wish i coulda seen it coming at me but oh fucking well tried looking over it to find an answer that fit cared but i don't give a shit now
