Gray stone eyes
A Chinese puzzle with a million sides
Caught you smiling with your arms tied up
Are you still drinking from that lonely cup?

Been up and down this road before
And despite this thicker skin
It's getting harder to defend

Pale-faced bride
I watch you falter when your worlds collide
And brace against it when the clouds roll up
Are you still drinking from that lonely cup?

Been up and down this road before
And despite this thicker skin
It's getting harder to defend
