You said we belong together
And we'll never be apart
You said we will last forever
When you held me on so tight
Oh our love it came so easy couldn't read between the lines
Don't know why you had to leave me
Now the sun no longer shines
Walking alone in the rain
Walking alone in the rain
looking alone in the rain
Walking alone in the rain
Hey we had such good vibrations
And no need to compromise
But it's still no consolation
When I see your lying eyes
Now I'm walking down the highway
Just waiting for a ride
Wishing we could be together
But we're standing still in time
Walking alone in the rain . . .
