Pain, how I wish that things had never to change
Playing with hearts is such a hazardous game
Hoping we can work things out back the same
Come back and love the pain away

Tried my best not to call for you, babe
It only makes things worse
You seem to think whenever I come around
There's something on my mind

Well, if you ever really took some time, girl
And try and figure me out
Girl, if I had a dime for every time
That you tried to love me back
I think I'd be rich

But I can't stand the pain
How I wish that things had never to change
Playing with hearts is such a hazardous game
Hoping we can work things out back the same
Come back and love the pain away

I often reminisce of the good times
When we were so in love
It hurts my heart to know that the truth is
You won't be around, girl

I find it hard to try and find another
No one can take your place
You are my fantasy, girl of my wildest dreams
Girl, then I finally woke up

And I can't take the pain
How I wish that things had never to change
Playing with hearts is such a hazardous game
Hoping we can work things out back the same
Come back and love the pain away

Hoping we were back to being the same
There's a [Incomprehensible] in that hole, it's time for change
And I don't think I can maintain the strength

Come back and love away the pain
And love the pain away, I just can't stand the pain

I just can't stand the pain
How I wish that things had never to change
Playing with hearts is such a hazardous game
Hoping we can work things out back the same
Come back and love the pain away
Hoping we to being the same
