Here comes Ben with a fucking cure
You think I should
You think I should you think I should
Well it's a simple gesture, Fuck or death
You think I should
You think I should you think I should

I know its something in my brain that I have either lost or disintegrated somehow to keep myself sane what do I need a drug a drug that doesn't fuck up anyone and to this level everyone seems that they're better then me

I would

Well so how you doing?
I see your alive, well
If I drowned myself id die

Look back not down the stones
They float in the wind
What are you waiting for and where's my patience?
Look back, not down; you see the stones
How they're falling once again to this level
Everyone seems that they still are better then me

Well I am forced I'm simplified
But this change in life I'm falling with you down
But its just one footstep, just one footstep
I'm too headstrong oh to leave this world alone
But its just one footstep, just one footstep
Too headstrong oh to leave this world alone

Hey!
Tell me that you thought about me
Well did you think I care about me?
Well did you think I cared about me?

Well here comes Ben I

It was the third time in my life
