Show me people who are sure of their next day
Draw me portraits of those who were killed on their way
Show me the one who survived, one of the regiment But somebody must be aa door, somebody must be a lock and

Somebody must be a key

CHORUS

Earth and heaven

Between earth and heaven there is war

Wherever you are, whatever you're doing

There's war between earth and heaven

There are people somewhere who know there's day and there's night

There are people somewhere who have daughters and sons

There are people somewhere and this rule works for them

Which will make the wall shake
