"Leaving"

something is happening to me I think that its kinda strange gave the beggar man a quarter you know he offered to give me some change he could tell I was in a bad way I had only one thing left to do and its leaving well I cant say that people are mean now there was one man who was almost kind he tried to help me cross a busy street it seems that he thought I was blind well I guess I was for a while babe oh but now I know my mind its all for leaving, leaving leaving aint so hard to do when youve nothing to leave behind when your easy days are gone its easy to move on oh I went to bed Thursday morning got up it was Saturday night though I dreamt of you in colour when I woke up you were black and white well there aint too much thats left for me and whats left just doesnt feel right so Im leaving, leaving
