I can't remember ecstasy, I could not comprehend
She headed for the big escape, suffering till the end
Grimness is your fate
Destroy your blind hate

The sense of daze from injury, the crypt of hidden fears
Though bitter nights spent shivering, to fly from frozen tears
Grimness is your fate
Tear down your blind hate

Your straight lies confound me, my wisdom is in vain

Observe the storms displace, my screams are all in vain
More fools dream at dawn
Go down, you're my swan

I'd like to think I know you
Like I think I know myself
You'd be forever part of me
You'd be my other half
We'd live our lives together
Forever you and me
Together we would rule the world
And sail the seven seas
We would go down the same road
And share every dusty mile
Each day we'd see the sun rise
And kiss the morning with a smile
But now you chose your own path
And left this mortal place
You're out of reach forever
Leave only empty space
