As if adrift on soundless waves
From past horizon shores
The tides have turned, my compass shows
I'm on collision course
I rip my chest, unleash the beast
That lives inside of me
It spits and bites, it pulls the chain
Screaming to be free

Deep inside of me
Where to find the secret door
To turn back time and live the life
Like I've always lived before
Ever since this mark appeared
This ever-growing stain
The darkest thoughts of ages past
Are invading my brain

Where is the real me?
My head is filled with lies
My consciousness it twists and turns
Like the rolling of a dice
Where is the real me?
It takes me by surprise
Showing the unexpected face
Of a devil in disguise

In disguise, a devil in disguise
In disguise, a devil in disguise

My heart is pounding like a drum
It beats to unknown chants
An instrument of hidden souls
Played by unknown hands
The sound bleeds into frozen air
It spreads like oil at sea
Rippling out across my cloak
Of dark antagony

Deep inside of me
Where to find the secret door

To turn back time and live the life
Like I've always lived before
Ever since this mark appeared
This ever-growing stain
The darkest thoughts of ages past
Are invading my brain

Where is the real me?
My head is filled with lies
My consciousness it twists and turns
Like the rolling of a dice
Where is the real me?
It takes me by surprise
Showing the unexpected face
Of a devil in disguise

Where is the real me?
My head is filled with lies
My consciousness it twists and turns
Like the rolling of a dice
Where is the real me?
It takes me by surprise
Showing the unexpected face
Of a devil in disguise

Who will drive away the pain
Who controls the sun and rain

In disguise, a devil in disguise
In disguise, a devil in disguise
