Savouring
The taste of running sweat
Adrenaline
I feel it rushing to my head

Accelerate
Never giving in
A deadly race
No one will ever win

Struggling
Against the whirling tractor beam
Escaping
From getting sucked into the stream

Spiral out
From Earth's trajectory
Desperate
To outrun gravity

Praying to the gods of the wind
To find my sail
Racing ahead with the devil
Right at my tail
Onward I'll fly
Like a blazing star through the sky
Losing track it feels
Like a blind chase with death at my heels
Trapped in the wormholes of space
I can only pray
Send me a fallen angel
Who shows me the way

To their fate will most certainly die
Tell as a last deed
The survivors to bid me godspeed
Tell them to look out for me
In the southern skies
Tell them to look out for me
In the northern lights

Tell them to look out for me
Always

Traitors lured out of their lair
Are out to destruct
Trying to catch up behind
But I just can't be stopped

To their fate will most certainly die
Tell as a last deed
The survivors to bid me godspeed
Tell them to look out for me
In the southern skies
In the northern lights
And run free
