Let's go
I flew down south over the mountains today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way I remember, I remember, I remember, I remember when my dad walked in on me I was sitting cross legged on the bedroom floor looking at a couple of G's
With a bogie on my lip and a ski on the ground, weighing out a couple quarter p's Not been back to that house since that day
But the lock don't turn with the key You gotta go if you wanna don't go, but tomorrow you gotta leave
You gotta go down south where the air's a little better, son,
so you can learn how to breathe

So I flew down south over the mountains today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way
And I flew down south, yeah daddy, I flew down today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way

I remember, I remember, I remember,
I remember shaking when the morning began I remember, I remember the second I got better, well I left Dodge and ran I got sick thinking 'bout life alone, like the back bone without the muscle Like the bruises and broken nose that emerged from my hustle
See I don't plan to live my whole life o'er the missing piece to this puzzle If I'mma make Salt Lake City tonight some way I'mma have to hustle
So I guess we head out, foot down, Massachusetts such a sad town
It's time to let this hillside fade into the background

So I flew down south over the mountains today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way
And I flew down south, yeah daddy, I flew down today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way

I remember, I remember, I remember,
I remember the deep end swimming with the sharks Then weekend for these freshins' smoking, blow in the park Waiting till the sun sets on the hillside to be alone in the dark Another ex-AA marijuana junkie spits out a starry a-tune
I'd tighten those laces up honey if, if I was you And I'd stop talking about moving mountains boy, if I was you

And I guess, I guess I flew down south over the mountains today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way
And I flew down south, yeah daddy, I flew down today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way

So I flew down south, yeah daddy, I flew down today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way
And I flew down south, yeah daddy, I flew down today
And I'll be back, and I'll be back
When I can push those mountains out of the way
