I lost my touch, OK I went a little over board
Suppose I said too much Best believe I got good reasons for, acting the way I did
Smiling Judas with open arms, and your hard to forgive
But I don't know where we start
'cause we had some good times, didn't we? Them bad times too
But the bad times were simply, made better by you

'cause in this life, you gotta roll with the punches
Do your best to hold on to something
In this life, you ain't promised nothing
Just have to find some honest loving
In this life, you gotta roll with the punches
In this life, you gotta hold onto something
In this life, you ain't promised nothing
Just have to find some honest loving in this life

Thought about you every hour, on the hour, a little bit everyday
I cut myself in the shower, the blood runs down the tray
Can I be honest for a minute?
Would you prefer that I lied?
Well you a Goddess among women, my reason to be alive
Now I know Hell has no fury, like a women with class I take my time, I don't hurry, I want every moment to last

'cause in this life, you gotta roll with the punches
Do your best to hold on to something
In this life, you ain't promised nothing
Just have to find some honest loving
In this life, you gotta roll with the punches
In this life, you gotta hold onto something
In this life, you ain't promised nothing
Just have to find some honest loving in this life

(?) Letta(?) said Koaster, you're falling off
In your old age, you're getting soft

They said Koaster you're pissing me off
And I don't wanna hear about the love you lost
They said Koaster you're falling off
In your old age, you're getting soft
They said Koaster you're pissing me off
Boy listen, boy listen, boy listen

'cause in this life, you gotta roll with the punches
Do your best to hold on to something
In this life, you ain't promised nothing
Just have to find some honest loving
In this life, you gotta roll with the punches
In this life, you gotta hold onto something
In this life, you ain't promised nothing

Just have to find some honest loving in...
