Another cigarette, replace the switch fuse.
Another lightning flash, don't know how to lose.
I find a wristwatch, I tell a white lie.
It keeps ticking, like, time after time.

(And I) So soft,
(don't) my skin.
(miss) But not,
(you) like him.
(Cos I) He's warm.
(don't) He's gone.
(need) A black night.
(you) A white swan.

Just when I think I have broken your spell.
You got me where you want me.
You call me back and then I can't even tell.
You got me where you want me.

Turn on the TV set, I shut another book.
Whenever I go out I don't where to look.
I put the clock back. I know it never flies.
I keep crying out why, why, why.

(And I) So soft,
(don't) my skin.
(miss) But not,
(you) like him.
(Cos I) He's warm.
(don't) He's gone.
(need) A black night.
(you) A white swan.

Just when I think I have broken your spell.
You got me where you want me.
You call me back and then I can't even tell.
You got me where you want me.
