You think the show is over,
You're sure you're going under,
And when you think the world stops turning,
And all you touch is burning,
Don't fall, don't cry, just know that everything can be alright,
Just gotta hold on tight,
And wherever you are it's never too far
Cause through the shadows and the darkness you will see the light,
Just gotta stand and fight,
And if ever you fall you can still crawl

You think all hope has faded
Your life is overrated
And when you think the world stops turning,
And all you touch is burning,
Don't fall, don't cry, just know that everything can be
alright,
Just gotta hold on tight,
And wherever you are it's never too far
Cause through the shadows and the darkness you will
see the light,
Sometimes you gotta fight,
And if ever you fall you can still crawl
Just hold on tight and don't let go then it can be alright

You think the show is over,
You're sure you're going under,
And when you think the world stops turning,
And all you touch is burning,
Don't fall, don't cry, just know that everything can be
alright,
Just gotta hold on tight,
You've almost crossed the line,
Sometimes you gotta fight.
