As the day now comes to the ending and the neon lights up the city

There's a girl who's tired of waiting;
When it's time I'm sure she'll be ready

And you know where she'll go

she's the star of the night show.

She's been hiding behind the windows

She's been hiding under her nice clothes

Now she's dressing up for the disco

You can bet her spirits are not low

And you know where she'll go

she's the star of the night show.

This must be her night
Cinderella's in the light

Oh
now can't you see her eyes they're shining bright.

Oh
everything looks right
I don't know what she will find

But her change has come alive ah.

Cinderella's life will be changing every night

She's the star
yes
she's the sight and she knows.
Oh

what is on her mind? Cinderella's flying high

Will we ever you and I?

Now the moment's near to the count-down

Everybody's heading for downtown

And they're searching all for the right sound

Pretty girls are fighting for the crown

And you know where she'll go

she's the star of the night show.

She's been hiding behind the windows

...

Cinderella's life will be changing every night
