You and your great love for me

You and your great love for me

You and your great love for me make such a lovely pair

I think I better leave the room, you won't notice I'm here

This a new experience I'm jealous of myself

'cause you and your great love for me leave me on the shelf

You and your great love for me

You and your great love for me

A room filled with flowers, thousands maybe more

I hate to tell you but my big day was the week before

I hear you from a distance praising our eternal flame

But I can't help but wonder do you even know my last name

You and your great love for me make such a lovely pair

I think I better leave the room, you won't notice I'm here

This a new experience I'm jealous of myself

'cause you and your great love for me leave me on the shelf

You and your great love for me

You and your great love for me

You really seem to think

I'm all those things you want me to be and you're so in love with love

You and your great love for me make such a lovely pair

I think I better leave the room, you won't notice I'm here

This a new experience I'm jealous of myself

'cause you and your great love for me leave me on the shelf

You and your great love for me make such a lovely pair

I think I better leave the room, you won't notice I'm here

This a new experience I'm jealous of myself

'cause you and your great love for me leave me on the shelf
