"Blue Memory"

Floating among the clouds is where I want to be
With nothing in my way except the breeze, the soft, soft breeze
I'd throw my head back and get lost in the scenery
Until you fade, til you fade from me
Until you fade into a haze,
A hazy blue memory

A lonely little island is where I want to be
With miles and miles of blue surrounding me
A tiny little island, just big enough for me
Where I can drown your image deep into the sea
Until your colors start to run and bleed into a Watery blue memory

On top of the world is where I want to be High above the earth looking down on a distant memory
With nothing at my back but black
Stretched out into infinity
On top of the world looking down on a Small blue memory
