I Saw my ID it wasn't me
it was someone else's identity why do I need to prove my self and who is the judge of my sanity.

Roaming through my old emotions
I find new feelings of misery
I bet with my soul to get back the truth were i will face reality.

Chorus:

Life is a book and you've got to read it
Life is a story and you've got to tell it
Life is a song and you've got to sing it
You've got to know how to live it!

Walking around with some thoughts on my mind
I'm search for place where I'll be free from all that i said and from all that's been done
It will be hard to find it inside of me.

I know that I've gotta try
No one can see me cry
I can't take it anymore
I must find a way to let my self go.

Chorus:

Life is a book and you've got to read it
Life is a story and you've got to tell it
Life is a song and you've got to sing it
You've got to know how to live it!

That is true; you know it don't youÂ...
