

Kur, Die "Hell Machine"

I learned to recognize you thru' your wonder works you try to sell
for something more than this [than this
And the long wait lead me here just when you always tried to persuade me in doing not this
But I know that's part of your role you always played this game but never you won launch your lucky dice
and get your fucked chance.
This' only the beginning and the rest you know

Machine engulfs you
when you will see
way to get something back from your soul
Machines will get ya
when you will see
the way to get something back
from your soul
Try again once
the rule it's easy
and you know the win
the green carpet is calling you you have only to guess abstraction of what you can't touch [a number
You can win / you can lose nothing's forever but what i want
