Stop, taking for granted, I am the one who's wrong
You might be surprised
Time standin' still, it seems like we don't belong
You'll realize

Start giving to me all you can
Stop telling me girl, just where I stand on the way

It's your turn, you should show what you know to me
One, I've not heard before
My concern, you can't tell what you know to me
You can't say it all in a word

Life turns around, time not to look away
And face what you see
Truth shows itself so watch everything you say
When you're talking to me

You find yourself just in time
No, don't be afraid of what you'll find on the way

It's your turn, you should show what you know to me
One, I've not heard before
My concern, you can't tell what you know to me
You can't say it all in a word

It's your turn, you should show what you know to me
One, I've not heard before
My concern, you can't tell what you know to me
You can't say it all in a word

It's your turn, you should show what you know to me
One, I've not heard before
My concern, you can't tell what you know to me
You can't say it all in a word
No, you can't say it all in one word
