

Townes Van Zandt

"Hunger Child Blues"

Visit "Hunger Child Blues" on MotoLyrics.com

Well some have called me hunger's child some have turned away
well some said wild and a few said free some have refused to say
Aw do you think you know my name?

Well the songbird somehow sweetly sings the summer sun how she shines and the fireflies cut the cold black wind to paint their strange designs and the wind she sings my name

Take your armies, take them from my door your battle's built on doom all your standards all lie shattered now beneath the portals of my room and the walls they sing my name

Well some call me hunger's child some have turned away
well some said wild and a few said free
some have refused to say
Aw do you think you know my name?
do you think you know my name... (repeat/fade out)

Visit Townes Van Zandt page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.