One day one night I calmed myself down
One day one night for so I put up that fight We meet eye-to-eye look me straight in the face and say it
Instead you laugh and punch me the blood I can taste it
The fear I can feel it in a sense it is drenched and then clenched

A fight that went wrong contraband was involved or was it the blood thirsty maggots Condensing up the alcohol whatever it was I am sure it's not important it's not important because a Racketeer and an empire is still among us out of everything in the world this is what's left

We meet eye-to-eye look me straight in the face and
say it
Instead you laugh and punch me the blood I can taste it
The fear I can feel it in a sense it is drenched and then

Work all day work all night
Still put up a fight
Get up and do it again
Get up and do it again

We meet eye-to-eye look me straight in the face and
say it
Instead you laugh and punch me the blood I can taste it
The fear I can feel it in a sense it is drenched and then

Work all day work all night
Still put up a fight
Get up and do it again
Get up and do it again
