You stand there balling your eyes out
Crying over a possible heartbreak in the making
You stand there wailing and saying to yourself
This cant be happening

Man goes back to beast and the demon
Reincarnates him from within wearing him thin

Shaking out of control
Swinging your fists for that passion
Rage incarnates love time to ration

Don't ever let it go
He will come back it may be slow
For now he remains the same person
Back to normal but a part of him did change

Shaking out of control
Swinging your fists for that passion
Rage incarnates love time to ration
