Calling your number dialing it right down the center
I reach no one just the answering machine
I leave this messageÃfÂçâ,¬Ã,Â!

Love for one another may be becoming
Love for one another may be misleading
Love for one another may be becoming

I will let you know when I turn myself around
Because you're the reason I don't frown
I will let you know when I turn myself around
Because I am the open hand

Guiding the way leading the way
Guiding the way leading the way
The outcry of phone calls makes my day
When the face of the telemarketer
Or the face of you it makes me feel true

I will let you know when I turn myself around
Because you're the reason I don't frown
I will let you know when I turn myself around
Because I am the open hand
