

Matt McCormack"Holiday"

Visit "Holiday" on MotoLyrics.com

Holiday
(McCormack)

I already know how this will end.
I should have seen those headlines rolling in.
And after all those years of climbing your fences
She says the things I do are too few to mention.
So California, here I come.
I'll bring what's left of my money
If you bring your sun.
All those long distance bills were eating up my pension
She says the things I do are too few to mention.
Sign me up for a holiday
One where I can get away.
One where I can be alone free to roam.
New York City I've never been.
They said it takes twelve hours, I can be there in ten.
Can someone give me a pill to relieve this tension
When she says the things I do are too few to mention.
Sign me up for a holiday
One where I can get away.
One where I can be alone free to roam
Free to roam.

Visit Matt McCormack page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.