(Willcox)

As you sleep in our bed
In my arms I see a dying man

You will always be what you will be
Ready to take, waiting to receive
I'm the object in your life called wife
Struggling for existence
While all around glides by

You will always be what you will be
Ready to take, waiting to receive
Hope, pride, will a hand
Break the ice, pull me from the sea
If I don't ask, I don't receive

You will always be what you will be
Ready to take, waiting to receive
Just remove the hook from my mouth
Let me go free
