Who could stand a chance against eyes like those?

What kind of man would it take?

Baby, I would stay here all night long

Just to see the moonlight on your face.

Something tells me its time to walk away.

Common sense warns me there's a price to pay.

Chorus

But my heart only know what it feels.

You can't tell it something it don't want to hear,

So don't tell my heart this dream isn't real,

'Cause my heart only know what it feels.

Yeah, my heart only know what it feels.

The sun is coming up, but the stars are in my eyes.

I'm missing you before I go.

And all day long I'll be thinking of you.

Girl, you just gotta know

Everyone says "You're in trouble, my friend."

My rational mind says "Better think again."

Chorus

But my heart only know what it feels.

You can't tell it something it don't want to hear,

So don't tell my heart this dream isn't real,

'Cause my heart only know what it feels.

Yeah, my heart only know what it feels.

When I'm in your arms I leave this world behind.

The only world I care about is here with you and I.

Chorus

But my heart only know what it feels.

You can't tell it something it don't want to hear,

So don't tell my heart this dream isn't real,

'Cause my heart only know what it feels.

Yeah, my heart only know what it feels.

What it feels.
