You never need nobody
You've never been alone
And I try to get your affection
And all I ever do is wrong

You could break a heart in your sleep
Yeah, the way you move makes a grown man weep
They all line up at your door
Saying please (please), please (please)
I can't take no more

You never need nobody
You've never been alone
And I try to get your affection
And all I ever do is wrong

You could calm a storm with your tone
Yeah, the way you sing makes the mockingbird hum
The grass you walk on gives way
Saying please (please), please (please)
Come back this way

You never need nobody
You've never been alone
And I try to get your affection
And all I ever do is wrong

Give me your hottest fever
Loudest scream in the crowd
All of these good times can't change
The way I feel 'bout you now
[x2]

Now I know you got that smile
Yeah, the way it shines can drive a man half wild
I won't dance around this no more
I'm the only one you should smile for

You never need nobody
You've never been alone
And I try to get your affection

And all I ever do is wrong
[x2]
