The other night we're playing good and my heart was on fire

Till I called you 5 times on the telephone wire

And I thought a little bird might've chewed right through the cable

When I went outside to look I saw that it wasn't able To peck its way through and sever the connection

Till a feeling in my heart heading right in your direction

And they say that looks a drop but maybe I just don't buy it

Though you say I won't like it I sure as hell would like to try it

I just want someone to fall in love with

I just want someone to fall in love with

I just want someone to fall in love with

I just want someone to fall in love with

So I walk up to the shop situated on the corner

To see if I saw in someone could make me a little woman

But I drop on the scoop when ask directions to the lake

Before I know what I do now that the reservoir gate

With the tramp on the scooter and a lobster on the leete

Said forget I loved you because love is all you need

But hydrogen and oxygen they found the perfect match together

I can't pal it I can't melt it driving loneliness forever

I just want someone to fall in love with

I just want someone to fall in love with

I just want someone to fall in love with

I just want someone to fall in love with

All the skill I got loose and the skill I can't buy

And I tried 100 times on the telephone wire

So I plucked out that phone from the root where it was seeded

And I tracked it to a bar because a drink is what I needed

And I wooshed out of the house to consider my position
As a pilot on the loose ship had it on a hopeless mission
And a drink to sober thing 'cept to make your mouth get wetter Pour it on a broken heart and sure as hell make you feel better

I just want someone to fall in love with
I just want someone to fall in love with
I just want someone to fall in love with
I just want someone to fall in love with

Thousands of people feel like me
Thousands of people feel like me
Thousands of people feel like me
Thousands of people feel like me

I just want someone to fall in love with
I just want someone to fall in love with
I just want someone to fall in love with
I just want someone to fall in love with
