(Karen Taylor-Good/Paul Williams)

Bring on the girls

Break out the wine

Fill up the glasses, this round is mine

There's tunes to play

There's jokes to tell

I need to dance with someone I don't know so well

If we play a louder song, I may not notice that she's gone

Party on -- party on

Let's make some noise

Let's tell some lies

Let's cut those big shots and our bosses down to size

Call all your friends

Let's fill this place

I need a crowd around till I forget her face

I've gotta drink my way to strong to face that empty bed at dawn

Party on -- party on

Chances are before the night is over

I'll stare into my glass and call her name

I guarantee, if only you had known her

Not one of you would ever be the same

Now don't rush off

The night is young

I can't remember ever having this much fun

Who needs to sleep

'Cause after all

When you've got heartache big as mine, there's no last call

She was the one, she walked away

There's really nothing left to say

Party on -- party on

Party on....
