From All Star Country Christmas

On a dark and cold starry night
Mary heavy with child
Whispered to Joseph I can't go an anymore
So he wrapped her up in his arms
Said I'll find you someplace warm
But they were turned away at every door.

No room, no room
Sorry but we're too full to let you in
No space, no place for the Baby Jesus
No room.

Once again Christmas is here
The busiest time of the year
There's a growing list of last minute things to do
There's not many shopping days left
Still got presents to wrap
People to see and parties we've got to go to.

No room, no room
Sorry but life's too full to let you in
No space, no place for the Savior Jesus
No room.

No room.
No room...
