

Tracy Lawrence "God's Green Earth"

Visit "God's Green Earth" on MotoLyrics.com

I shook off the blame and said some things
When I should have bit my tongue
My foolish pride made the knot we tied, come undone

I've got more regrets than blades of grass
That cover up this dirt
On this big old ball we all call God's green earth

Oh, your memory has colored me lonely tonight
My eyes are red from the tears I have cried
I'm heartbroke and blue, sittin' on a world of hurt
Down here on God's green earth

Hey, it's a fact if you don't come back
Can't live without your love
I'll do anything for another drink from that cup

Without you, girl, it's true
I got a powerful thirst that can't be drowned
By all the water found on God's green earth

Oh, your memory has colored me lonely tonight
My eyes are red from the tears I have cried
I'm heartbroke and blue, sittin' on a world of hurt
Down here on God's green earth

Oh, your memory has colored me lonely tonight
My eyes are red from the tears I have cried
I'm heartbroke and blue, sittin' on a world of hurt
Down here on God's green earth

Yeah, I'm heartbroke and blue, sittin' on a world of hurt
Down here on God's green earth

Visit Tracy Lawrence page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.